FEEDBACK:

I feel confident to support my community following a disaster.

I now have an understanding of what community led really means.

I know that emergencies can't be done alone and why its important to connect with my neighbours.

I now know how to prepare for a disaster.

INFORMATION SESSIONS

HOW TO PREPARE FOR FLOOD, FIRE, STORM & HEAT

Understanding local risks, what to expect when disaster strikes and how to stay informed. Each session is tailored to your local area.

COMMUNITY EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT PLANNING

Rural and regional communities are no strangers to the harsh realities of disasters. Whether it's drought, floods, or bushfires, these events can devastate livelihoods, impact food production, and put entire communities at risk. But what if each community had a clear plan in place to prepare, respond, and recover together?

That's where Community Emergency Management Planning (CEMP) comes in. A strong plan ensures that when disaster strikes, communities are ready to act—protecting lives, livestock, and property, while ensuring no one is left behind.

In just one day, communities have a complete, ready-to-use Community Emergency Management Plan designed to create stronger and resilient communities before, during and after disasters.
